

PARENT UNIVERSITY

at ARBOR HILL ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Topic: Literacy at home
What: Tips to keep elementary students of all ages engaged in reading at home
When: Saturday, March 11, 10 a.m.-noon
Where: Arbor Hill Elementary School, 1 Arbor Drive

Topic: Restorative justice
What: Everyone makes mistakes; learn how to help your child turn them into opportunities for personal growth
When: Saturday, March 25, 10 a.m.-noon
Where: Alternative Learning Center, 50 North Lark Street

Topic: Prekindergarten literacy
What: Receive free books and help prepare your child for kindergarten with fun and exciting reading strategies
When: Tuesday, April 25, 5-7 p.m.
Where: Arbor Hill Elementary School, 1 Arbor Drive

Childcare and a meal will be provided free at all events.**

Parent University is a City School District of Albany initiative designed to help keep parents involved in the education of their children at the middle-school level, and has now been expanded to include more schools courtesy of a My Brother's Keeper Challenge Grant.

For more information, contact Community Engagement Coordinator Cathy Edmondson at 475-6067 or cedmondson@albany.k12.ny.us.